Coloured (Treated/Dry). 30ml £0.55 100ml £1.99 250ml £3.84

One of the main keys to prolonging the lifespan of the beautiful look of your treated hair is to keep the shaft from drying. Many treatments damage the hair, allowing a drying process to be accelerated. We moisturise our skin, so why not the hair? A good moisturising barrier will prolong the look and health of the hair. The best moisture for hair is actually water. To function properly, the body requires between one and seven litres of water per day to avoid dehydration. Water is good internally and externally for hair. Internally a well-hydrated body means that there is sufficient moisture for hair function, externally it means that the hair can maintain elasticity and suppleness. For moisturizing hair, water is the king. However, hair is porous and keeping this moisture in hair is next to impossible without sealing it in. The best way to trap moisture in hair is to use an oil or a "fatty alcohol" based product designed to coat and seal. Oils are made of large molecules. These molecules are too large to be absorbed by the hair strand. Instead it coats the strands and seals in the moisture that is already in the hair. So the key to avoiding dry hair is to hydrate and seal.

To wash hair, only a small application is required for an exceptional wash. Wet hair, apply shampoo, rinse. Repeat.

Ingredients: Aqua, Sodium Laureth Sulphate, Cocamidopropyl Betaine, Polyquaternium 11, Cocamide DEA, Glycol Distearate, Laureth-4, Carbomer, Parfum, Polyquaternium 10, Sodium Chloride, Coco Glucoside, Glyceryl Oleate, Glyceryl Strarate, Benzoic Acid, Sodium Hydroxide 20%, Benzyl Alcohol, Methyl- chlorothiazoline, Methylisothiazolinone, Cetearyl Alcohol, Cetrimonium Chloride, Behentrimonium Chloride, Cyclopentasiloxane Dimethicol, Bis-PEG/PPG-20/20 Dimethicone, Panthenol, Hydroxyethylcellulose, Disodium EDTA

5. Hair Extensions

(to prolong bond integrity, it is always advisable to avoid the bonds with any process)

Shampoo and Conditioner:

Hair extensions do not produce their own oils. Over a period of time, the extension can dry, becoming brittle and less attractive. One of the main keys to prolonging the lifespan of your extensions is to rehydrate and protect. We moisturise our skin, so why not the hair? A good moisturising barrier will do just this. The best moisture for hair is actually water. Internally a well-hydrated body means that there is sufficient moisture for hair function, externally it means that the hair can maintain elasticity and suppleness. As extensions are not fed by the body, it is essential to hydrate and feed them manually. For moisturizing your extensions, water is the king. However, your extensions are porous and keeping this moisture in is next to impossible without sealing it in. The best way to trap moisture in your extensions is to use a sealant.

Moisturisers/sealants are made of large molecules. These molecules are too large to be absorbed by the hair strand. Instead what they do is coat the strands and seal in the moisture that is already in the hair. So the key to avoiding dry extensions is to hydrate and seal - but avoiding the drying effects of products that are not designed to help. A good moisturising coat does not just seal, it also enhances the brilliance and lustre of your natural hair colour. Our shampoos, conditioners and treatments coat, seal, help restore and add shine.

“Sulphates” - should you or shouldn't you?

The issue with sulphates is a strange one! Many people say “no sulphates” but when you try to get to the bottom of “why not?” – the water gets very muddy. We researched this extensively, and the 2 best answers that we could find were these:

1. SLS & SLES (the most common sulphates in shampoo) were rumoured to be harmful to the environment and should not be used. SLS = sodium laureth sulphate, and SLES = sodium laureth ether sulphate, most people shortened them to just “sulphate”. This caused the rumour to grow that “sulphate” (“all sulphates”) were bad. This is not the case.
2. It also seems that certain extension manufacturers were unhappy that very effective alternative shampoos became available, which affected sales. They changed their formula to something that was a little more exclusive to them, and then encouraged the rumour that sulphates were not safe.

We think it is a good idea to ask yourself a question. If sulphates are fine for “real hair”, why are they not fine for “real hair extensions”? Is it the quality of the shampoo, or the quality of the extension that is the issue? Is it the bond?

When you consider that sulphates are still formulated into cutting edge shampoo technology, by the finest leading Laboratories on the planet, are used in the absolute top shampoos of the world, and used by the most discerning and well educated elite of society, it does begin to make you think!! Although our opinion is not really what matters, surely, what is important to the extension, is the shine, the health and the lifespan? This is why we always recommend that you test products for yourself. If our results are as beautiful as we claim, and the lifespan of the extension is extended, is this not everything that you would want to ask from an aftercare product?

We understand that choice is important, so we have products that fill both sides of the required ingredients.

Shaving and Beard Care

Shaving Creme 30ml £2.85 100ml £3.95

Lather is everything when shaving with a straight razor. The cardinal rule is to never let the lather dry or become too thin, or your razor won't work. Dip a badger hair shave brush in warm, not hot, water and use it to apply emulsified shave cream and water as a thick lather to your beard. Allow the lather two or three full minutes before shaving to soften the hairs. Apply another layer of emulsified cream and you're ready to rock and roll.

Steric Acid, Deionized Water, Glycerine, Potassium Hydroxide (%45), Oleum Coco, Propylene Glycol, Sodium Hydroxide (%15), Fragrance, 2-Bromo-2-Nitropropane-1, 3 Diol Methylchlorisothiazolinone, Methylisothiazolinone.

Shaving Gel 30ml £2.85 100ml £3.95

low foam gels allow for precision shaving so you can see exactly what you are doing-you will be shaving with pin-point accuracy - goatees, moustaches or even certain "sensitive" parts, you now have the tool for the job. Dampen skin, apply gel generously and you are ready to rock and roll.

Aqua, Glycerin, Aloe Barbadensis (Leaf) Extract, Sodium Laureth Sulfate, Acrylates/C10-30 Alkyl Acrylate Crosspolymer, Cocamidopropyl Betaine, Triethanolamine, Eucalyptus Globulus (Leaf) Oil, Melaleuca Alternifolia (Tea Tree) Leaf Oil, Mentha Piperita (Peppermint) Leaf Oil, Benzophenone-4, Triethylene Glycol, Benzyl Alcohol, Propylene Glycol, Methylchlorisothiazolinone, Methylisothiazolinone, Sodium Chloride, Sodium Hydroxide, Magnesium Nitrate, Magnesium Chloride, Potassium Sorbate, Citric Acid, CI 60730, CI 42090.

Shaving Balm 30ml £2.85 100ml £3.95

No shave is complete without the application of a moisturising balm to soothe skin, reduce redness, razor burn and heal any painful nicks and cuts. Easily absorbed. Fragrance free.

Aqua, Butyrospermum Parkii (Shea) Butter, Prunus Amygdalus Dulcis (Almond) Oil, Olea Europaea (Olive) Oil, Glyceryl Stearate, Cetearyl Alcohol, Glycerin, Aloe Barbadensis (Aloe) Leaf Extract, Xanthan Gum, Phenoxyethanol, Ethylhexylglycerin, Parfum.

made with A.B.S. (Anti-Breakage System) technology, formulated to work with all your colour and chemical procedures, and as a stand-alone treatment, rebuilding and repairing the hair, as well as preventing any damage before it even starts.

1. The Creator - in salon use. formulated to provide added nourishment, improve hair condition and maintain hair hydration whilst allowing the hair structure to become more elastic during the chemical service (colour, bleach, balayage).

2. The Sealer - in salon use. Containing our complex of amino acids: Soy isoflavones - Nacetyl-L-cysteine - Phytoceramide. This step Fuses newly formed bonds into the cortex, Delivers added hydration and nourishment, Smooths the cuticle layer to create a uniform surface, Adds strength & shine

Hair bonds are now properly secured into the hair structure, leaving the hair fully hydrated, soft and in great condition.

3. The Nourisher - Home use. For use twice per week - instead of conditioner. (More than twice is not necessary) Mirrors Step 2 - the Sealer, but balanced to offer perfect home maintenance - leaving the hair beautifully smooth. Protects the hair structure from environmental stress, maintaining the over all function of Step 2 - Sealer. Enhances natural suppleness, shine and ensures the rebuilt bonds stay intact!
